

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis would not have been completed without the assistance and support of all persons concerned.

I would first like to express my deepest gratitude to Dr. Prayoon Chaowaneenart, Chair of my Thesis Committee. I could not have finished my dissertation without his thorough guidance and encouragement.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude and greatest appreciation to Assistant Professor Dr. Nawamin Prachanant, my major advisor, throughout the years of my M.A. study, he was always there to offer help and advice and to gently move me in the right direction. His kindness, hard-working supervision, patience, and understanding walked me through many difficult times. As a distinguished researcher, he was always ready and quick to advise me. The present research would not have been possible without his total support in all aspects, and I am proud to have had him as my advisor.

I also owe my deepest gratitude to Dr. Kampeeraphab, my co-advisor, for his valuable advice and guidance. I would never have been able to complete this research without his help and suggestion. I would also like to thank Dr. Surachai Piyanukool for agreeing to serve as a member of my thesis committee. This thesis would not have been possible without them.

The thanks also go to Dr. Saowaroj Ruangpaisan, Assistant Professor Dr. Akkarapon Nuemaihom, and Mr. Suthat Sangkhaphan, my experts, who selflessly sacrifice their time to give me advice, feedback and comments on this thesis instruments. Without their support and recommendation, I may not be able to carry out this study.

I am indebted to Assistant Professor Dr. Suthiap La-ongthong , Assistant Professor Suthamat Kotcharat, Dr. Chookiat Jarat, and my all teachers who devote the time to teach, guidance, advice, and support me.

I am particularly owed to Thatumsanitratwittayakhom School for allowing me to conduct this study. Sincerest thanks are owed to all the participants, grade 6 students, at Thatumsanitratwittayakhom School, for their enthusiastic co-operation. I would like to thank my colleagues and friends for their encouragement. There are so many people whom I would like to thank, so I cannot attempt to name them all here.

Last but not least, it is impossible not to express my deepest gratitude to my wonderful parents, my husband, my lovely daughter, friends for their love, patience and steadfast support throughout my graduate work and research. This degree belongs to them as much as it does to me.
