

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The long journey of study would not have been possible without the encouragement and support of many people in a variety of ways. My heartfelt appreciation goes to Dr. Surachai Piyanukool, my main thesis advisor, for his valuable and critical feedback helped my ideas expand further along the way of my journey. He was the one who raised my interest in language learning strategies. I have many good memories with him. I sometimes spent whole afternoons on many weekends in his office to work with him and this especially allowed me to discuss the current study for much valuable times. I also appreciate his constant care and support throughout my years at BuriramRajabhat University (BRU). My special thanks go to my thesis committee members, Dr. Chookiat Jarat and Assistant Professor Dr. Nawamin Prachanant. I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Chookiat Jarat for his careful reading and valuable comments and Assistant Professor Dr. Nawamin Prachanant, whose insightful and keen feedback on the quantitative aspect in the current study was invaluable. I am also indebted to assistant professor Dr. Prayoon Chaowaneenart who was a thesis chairperson. His advice and support based on his profound experience as a scholar made my study of language learning strategy valuable.

I also owe gratitude to all the professors whose classes I took. Their classes contributed to my understanding of education and motivated me to be an inspiring educator. Also, I would like to thank all the staff in the graduate school for their administrative assistance and warm attitude. They made my schooling experience at BRU the best.

Working in the school was made even more pleasant with tender love and care I received from my participants and teachers. I have to extend warm thanks to them. A teacher is never more vulnerable than when someone is observing them in action. I am so grateful to you and your students for letting me into your classrooms. Thank you for being so willing to meet me for interviews and conversations about your knowledge and practice. It was a pleasure to work with you during this research process and I know we will collaborate again in the future.

I also want to thank my great friends Mrs.Sommanat Prompila, and Mr.Monchai Paewponsong without their constant and unconditional encouragement and support, it would not have been possible for me to reach the finish line.

Finally, I want to dedicate my heartfelt gratitude to my husband and my daughter Miss Sasitorn Thongsai, who are my spiritual supporters and life hopes. They provided me with confidence to accomplish this journey. Their belief in me and sacrifices for me have proven to be my greatest teacher. Thanks for being by my side both in happy and sad moments and helping me sail through my M.A. journey. I would not have survived these four years without you.
